

Our Personal signs are crafted with care to match your unique preferences and are always full of character.

Each sign starts on a basic pine palate, which holds its own natural character. But beyond that palate the creative possibilities are limitless. We can give life to any idea that you might already have in mind, or we can provide you with any professional guidance that you might need in choosing the right elements for your sign. We offer a variety of design and text options that are crafted either by hand or machine, that are either raised or engraved, or both. And if the common rectangle isn't quite what you are looking for, we can make your sign into virtually any shape. Custom driftwood and diamond willow framing are finishing options for those with more discerning tastes. Big or small, simple or complex, each sign is finished by hand with the greatest of care.
